I wonder if the IUI is sometimes timed a little too early, just before a follicle ruptures, and then the sperm die before they get to fertilize the egg.

It also depends on the proportion of each substance in the pill.